► A Letter from the President

Welcome to Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary and College. We look forward to sharing a portion of your life journey with you. As Christian leaders in the twenty-first century, we are committed to invest in the lives of men and women who will be used of God. We aim to help people understand His Word and how to apply it in the midst of complex circumstances and issues, both local and global.

In every aspect of our school it is our mission to train God-called men and women for twenty-first century leadership in tough places. We want graduates from our school to be future leaders marked by an uncompromising commitment to love God, love His Word, and love His people.

Our student community is vibrant and growing. We have welcomed students from across North America, as well as from diverse nations around our world. Whether enrolled in the college or seminary, our students enjoy learning in an intimate community with instructors who share our life together with them and their families.

The Association for Biblical Higher Education has commended us for our “highly credentialed, globally experienced, and spiritually mature faculty.” Our faculty have rich international missionary experience and have lead churches in pioneer regions of North America. Their walk with God and their zeal for His Word are distinguishing marks on their teaching.

As you read through the following pages of this catalogue, you will learn about different aspects of our community. I trust you will discover how we can prepare you to minister in the specific arena to which God has called you.

► History

Years ago God gave Canadian Southern Baptists a vision for training labourers for His kingdom's harvest. That dream was realized in May 1985 when the newly formed Canadian Convention of Southern Baptist (CCSB), now called Canadian National Baptist Convention (CNBC) voted to establish a seminary and to name a board of trustees representing Southern Baptists across Canada. This group oversaw the purchase of property for the seminary—a beautiful 149-acre site overlooking the town of Cochrane, Alberta.

In July 1986 the trustees invited Dr. Clint Ashley, a pastor in Pullman, Washington to serve as the first president of the seminary. He was followed by Dr. Richard Blackaby, a pastor in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Dr. Blackaby gave spiritual leadership to the seminary for 13 years, serving from August 1993 to August 2006. Through the years the seminary faculty grew to 12 members, who serve alongside additional staff, support personnel, and adjunct professors.

Since the school's beginning the Lord has graciously provided the resources and volunteers to help build our wonderful facilities. It all began in the summer of 1987 when two buildings were constructed on campus. The first was a maintenance/storage building; the second, a lovely 16,000-square-foot building housing offices, classrooms, and a growing library of 30,000 books. In 1990 the first student housing apartment complex was built. In the summer of 1995, a 19,000-square-foot academic building was constructed to house eight classrooms, three student lounge areas, a chapel, a bookstore and faculty offices. During 1998, another student housing complex was added, and renovations converted the maintenance building into a five-unit guest house. The years 2000-2003 saw the construction of thirty more student housing units, bringing the total to 46 apartments available on campus.

Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary opened with a Masters of Divinity program; a Masters of Religious Education degree was added in 1996. Seeking to meet the needs of the CCSB constituency, the trustees also approved in 1996 the establishment of an undergraduate college program, to be administered by the seminary. At that same meeting, the trustees also approved a partnership with Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary to deliver a Canadian track of their Doctor of Ministry degree, which began in the 1998-99 academic year. Several other two-year master degrees were added in 2011, and a four-year bachelor degree in 2013.

The year 2012 marked the 25th anniversary of CSBS&C. As we reflect back over the past twenty-five years, we marvel at the faithfulness of our God and what He has done. We also look forward to the future with great anticipation at what He will continue to do. To God alone be the glory!

► Statement of Faith

The Statement of Faith of the Canadian National Baptist Convention forms the theological parameters within which the Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary & College operates. The CNBC and its school stand squarely within the Baptist tradition of evangelical Protestants. Below is an abbreviated version of the Statement of Faith. A full version can be found on the school's website.

(www.canadianseminary.ca)

The Scriptures: The Holy Bible was written by men divinely inspired and is the record of God's revelation of Himself to man.

God: There is one and only one living and true God. The eternal God reveals Himself to us as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, with distinct personal attributes, but without division of nature, essence, or being.

Man: Man was created by the special act of God, in His own image, and is the crowning work of His creation.

Salvation: Salvation involves the redemption of the whole man, and is offered freely to all who accept Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour, who by His own blood obtained eternal redemption for the believer. In its broadest sense salvation includes regeneration, sanctification, and glorification.

God's Purpose of Grace: Election is the gracious purpose of God, according to which He regenerates, sanctifies, and glorifies sinners. It is consistent with the free agency of man.

The Church: A New Testament church of the Lord Jesus Christ is a local body of baptized believers who are associated by covenant in the faith and fellowship of the gospel, observing the two ordinances of Christ, committed to His teachings, exercising the gifts, rights, and privileges invested in them by His Word, and seeking to extend the gospel to the ends of the earth.

Baptism and the Lord's Supper: Christian baptism is the immersion of a believer in water in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. The Lord's Supper is a symbolic act of obedience whereby members of the church, through partaking of the bread and the fruit of the vine, memorialize the death of the Redeemer and anticipate His second coming.

The Lord's Day: The first day of the week is the Lord's Day. It is a Christian institution for regular observance.

The Kingdom: The Kingdom of God includes both His general sovereignty over the universe and His particular kingship over men who wilfully acknowledge Him as King.

Last Things: God, in His own time and in His own way, will bring the world to its appropriate end. According to His promise, Jesus Christ will return personally and visibly in glory to the earth; the dead will be raised; and Christ will judge all men in righteousness.

Evangelism and Missions: It is the duty and privilege of every follower of Christ and of every church of the Lord Jesus Christ to endeavour to make disciples of all nations.

Education: The cause of education in the Kingdom of Christ is coordinate with the causes of missions and general benevolence, and should receive along with these, the liberal support of the churches.

Stewardship: God is the source of all blessings, temporal and spiritual; all that we have and are we owe to Him.

Cooperation: Christ's people should, as occasion requires, organize such associations and conventions as may best secure cooperation for the great objects of the Kingdom of God.

The Christian and the Social Order: Every Christian is under obligation to seek to make the will of Christ supreme in his own life and in human society.

Peace and War: It is the duty of Christians to seek peace with all men on principles of righteousness. In accordance with the spirit and teachings of Christ they should do all in their power to put an end to war.

Religious Liberty: Church and state should be separate.

New Student Orientation

New Student Orientation is required for all new students, and admission is not finalized until orientation is completed. The orientation sessions are designed to introduce new students to life on campus, policies, administration, and faculty. The date for orientation is given in the calendar of events.

English Exam: During orientation, first-year students will take a mandatory English Exam provided by the seminary. If a graduate student fails the exam, he/she will be required to take a non-credit English program designated by the seminary in order to strengthen the student's reading and writing skills. The number and type of credit classes taken by the student will be restricted until the English class is successfully completed. Those students passing the English exam with a low score will be strongly encouraged to take English classes to strengthen their English skills.

Psychological Testing: Incoming students will be required to take at least one psychological test instrument during orientation week. The intent of this testing is to provide feedback on important areas of personal adjustment and interpersonal relationships which will assist the student toward maturity. The results will be kept in the student's confidential file. The results will be shared with the student, and counselling may be given as to how to respond to areas that may need attention.

Student Handbook

All students are required to read the Student Handbook and are responsible for their own personal and academic behaviour in compliance with the information, guidelines and policies therin. Students receive the official Student Handbook which includes more detailed policies and procedures as part of student orientation.

Divorce

At CSBS&C we realize that the health of a minister's marriage and family life is directly related to success in ministry. Unfortunately divorce is destroying homes in our world today including Christian homes. In order for the seminary or college experience to be all that God intends for it to be, major marital difficulties need to be settled and time allowed for healing before entering into training for Christian ministry.

Applicants who have been divorced may be admitted on the following conditions:

1. That marriage relations have been legally settled.
2. That at least one year has passed since the settlement.
3. That there is assurance that feelings have been allayed to such an extent that resultant problems will not become a disturbance to relations in the seminary and college community.
4. That an applicant has high recommendations concerning his or her usefulness as a Christian worker.
5. That the applicant agrees to counselling if it is determined by the seminary that such counselling would be beneficial to the applicant's training and future ministry.

Applicants who are married but living in estranged separation from their spouse are encouraged not to apply for admission until their marital problems are resolved.

The Admissions Committee bases its decision about admission upon the facts found in each individual case. Applicants should provide pertinent information as requested with the assurance that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and respected. Every effort will be made to be sympathetic with applicants, yet to adhere to Christian principles and to protect the moral and psychological health of the student body as well as the reputation of the school.

► Academic Policies & Procedures

Academic Year

The school year at the seminary is divided into two semesters of approximately 15 weeks each. The January and summer sessions (J-Terms) consist of a variety of intensive classes, typically one week in length.

Faculty Advising

At the beginning of their studies, each student is assigned to a faculty advisor who will assist him/ her with registration, and will give guidance in the proper selection and sequence of courses. Students are also required to meet with their advisors half way through their degree for a mid-program review as well as at the end of their program in preparation for graduation. Although academic guidance is provided through the faculty advisor, it is the responsibility of each student to know that he or she is following the academic plan that allows completion of all required courses.

Semester Course Load

Students must carry a course load of at least 10 credit hours per semester to be classified as full-time students. No student may carry more than 17 credit hours of course work, including field education, per semester.

Students should keep in mind that, as a rule of thumb in higher education, they are expected to study on average two hours outside of class for every hour in class. For example a 12 credit-hour course load would average out to be 36 hours of study (including class time) per week across a 15 week semester.

Course Transfer Policy (Seminary & College)

Students may be able to receive academic credit for courses taken at other institutions prior to enrolling at CSBS&C. Eligible courses must match those in the degree program in which the student is enrolling and will be considered on a course-by-course basis. Course credits must also be less than 10 years old and have a final grade of a B (3.0) or higher to be considered. All credits must be transferred to Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary & College at the time of admission.

The following policies govern course transfers:

1. A transfer course must be similar in content to a course in CSBS&C. Non-similar courses could be considered for elective credit transfers. Courses also must have been completed at an equivalent level of study. Thus, undergraduate courses cannot serve as transfer courses for graduate degrees.

2. A student cannot receive more transfer hours for a course from another institution than the credit CSBS&C offers for the equivalent course.
3. A "certificate" or similar recognition that has no real academic standing does not qualify for academic transfer.
4. CSBS&C may accept transfer credit from other accredited institutions (of at least candidate status). The number of transfer hours into a seminary degree may not exceed the credit hours required less 30 credit hours. The number of transfer credit hours into a four year college degree may not exceed the credit hours required less 40 credit hours.
5. Up to fifty percent of the required credit hours of a diploma or degree program from non-accredited schools may be transferable.
6. It is the responsibility of the student to make a written request with documentation to the Registrar for transfer of course credit. The student may need to provide an academic catalogue or course syllabi from the school where the courses were originally taken.
7. CBC will allow 6 credit hours of college electives based on having received the standard of "merit" or "distinction" for a year-long program at Capernwray (transcript required). Courses must have been completed within 5 years. Applicants may also request to test out of Old Testament Survey and/or New Testament Survey (3 credits each). Maximum transfer credit hours allowed is 12.
8. No automatic or guaranteed action is implied beyond these stated policies.

Advanced Standing Policy (Seminary)

Advance Standing is distinct from transfer credits and refers to decision about students' competence when no transcripts of graduate credit are presented.

CSBS may elect to grant Advanced Standing with credit by reducing the number of credits required for a degree.

The following policies govern advanced standing:

1. A student may receive advanced standing in the graduate programs for a course taken as part of an undergraduate degree from an accredited school.
2. A student may receive advanced standing for a course regardless of whether or not the student has received a degree for that course work.
3. It is the responsibility of the student to make a request with documentation to the Registrar for advanced standing. Requests will be considered on a course-by-course basis. The student may need to provide an academic catalogue or course syllabi from the school where the courses were originally taken.
4. To receive advanced standing with credit on the basis of prior academic work, it shall be determined by appropriate means of assessment that the student has the knowledge, competence, or skills that would normally be provided by the specific courses for which he/she is requesting advanced standing.
5. Advanced standing with credit cannot be granted on the basis of ministerial or life experience.
6. No more than 1/4 of the total credits required for any degree may be granted for prior academic work which is appropriately evaluated.
7. No automatic or guaranteed action is implied beyond these stated policies.
8. Fee for accepting Advanced Standing courses will be one half the current rate of tuition.

Directed Study

The option of taking a course as a directed study may be available to students due to exceptional circumstances or need. See Student Handbook for guidelines.

Registration & Course Changes

Students already enrolled register for semester classes on the Friday of the ninth week of the previous semester. A class may be added by the end of the first week, or alternatively, dropped by the end of the second week of the semester. It is the responsibility of the student to consult with his/her faculty advisor about any course changes, and to see that the changes are properly recorded with the Registrar with payment of the drop/add fee.

Intensive course registrations may be accepted until the beginning of the first class meeting. An intensive course may be dropped before the second class meeting.

Withdrawal from Courses

Withdrawal from any course after the first two weeks of the semester will be recorded as a W. A student withdrawing from a course after the ninth week from the start of the semester will receive an automatic F. See calendar of events for dates.

Withdrawal from Program & Readmission

Students withdrawing from their program must notify the Registrar's office in writing. Students who have withdrawn must be readmitted to resume their studies. A student's readmission is subject to review based on the student's total record, including academic performance, personal, moral and ethical conduct, and progress toward effectiveness in Christian ministry.

Class Attendance

At CSBS&C we value learning in community, so students are expected to attend all classes in order to receive maximum benefit from the course. Unavoidable issues do arise from time to time, so some allowances are made. However, if a student is absent for more than two weeks of class, academic credit will not be given for the course. To receive credit for an intensive course, all sessions must be attended.

Grading

Grading is by letter. Final grades are printed by the Registrar's Office and reported to the students. Grades are designated as follows:

A = Excellent	F = Failure
B = Good	I = Incomplete
C = Satisfactory	W = Withdrawal
D = Poor

Grades are computed as follows (number in parentheses represents the student's grade average for the course):

A+ (98-100)	C (73-76)
A (95-97)	C- (70-72)
A- (92-94)	D+ (66-69)
B+ (88-91)	D (63-65)
B (85-87)	D- (60-62)
B- (81-84)	F (59 or below)
C+ (77-80)

Courses for which grades of D or better have been earned may not be repeated for credit. Courses for which grades of F have been received may be repeated for credit, but the initial grade of F will remain on the transcript.

The grade point value of each letter grade is as follows:

A+ = 4.0	C = 2.0
A = 4.0	C- = 1.7
A- = 3.7	D+ = 1.3
B+ = 3.3	D = 1.0
B = 3.0	D- = 0.7
B- = 2.7	F = 0.0
C+ = 2.3

Completion of Assignments

All assignments are due on the date set by the instructor. Work will not be accepted that is more than two weeks overdue. Instructors may assign a grade of incomplete for a student who has not completed all assignments by the end of the semester. In order to be fair to students who have submitted their work on time despite personal hardships, work must be completed within thirty days from the last day of class; otherwise the grade becomes an F. Students may not submit the same material for credit in more than one course without prior approval of the instructor.

Writing Guide

All institutions of higher education utilize some standards for writing of research papers, formal reports, or dissertations. At CSBS&C, as at most seminaries and colleges in North America, the required standard used is A Manual For Writers Of Term Papers, Theses, And Dissertations (latest edition), by Kate Turabian. Each instructor will inform students about which writing assignments must follow the Turabian guidelines.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the act of presenting someone else's ideas, writing, work or other intellectual property as one's own.

To "plagiarize" is to submit someone else's work as your own. In submitting material for credit, all forms of plagiarism are prohibited. Copying another student's work, citing printed material without acknowledging the original source, as well as taking information off the internet without giving credit is considered plagiarism.

All forms of plagiarism will not be tolerated and could result in a failing grade for the assignment. Plagiarism could also result in further academic disciplinary action, including dismissal from the school.

Academic Standards

The following procedures of warning, probation, and suspension because of low academic averages apply to all students:

1. Academic Warning is given to any student whose grade point average drops below 2.0 in any given semester.
2. Academic Probation is given to students whose total grade point average falls below 2.0 and is in effect for the next semester in which they are enrolled. Students on probation will be permitted to enroll for a maximum of twelve semester hours.
3. Academic Suspension will be given to students who fail to attain a semester average of 2.0 in the semester in which they were on Academic Probation. This suspension will mean immediate dismissal from the academic program. A student who has received Academic Suspension may apply for readmission after 12 months have passed. Academic work completed in other institutions while on suspension will not be recognized.

Policy for Appeals

If a student feels that he or she is being treated unfairly, whether in the matter of a grade received or for some other matter, the student should follow the normal appeal procedure:

1. The appeal should be made first to the person responsible for the contested decision.
2. If no resolution is attained, the student should take the matter to his or her faculty advisor.
3. Where the student is not satisfied that the appeal has been fairly heard or considered or where the student wishes to appeal for an exception, the matter may be presented to the Academic Dean.
4. As a last resort, the student may petition the full faculty to consider the appeal. The faculty has final jurisdiction.

In matters concerning the appeal of a grade, students may only appeal the final grade for a course (not grades on individual assignments). The student bears the full burden of proof for demonstration that a grade should be changed. The appeal along with all documentation must be submitted in writing to the Academic Dean within 6 weeks of the end of the semester in which the grade was received.

For items pertaining to the accreditation of the seminary, students have a right to register their complaint directly with ATS, 10 Summit Park Drive, Pittsburg, PA 15275-1103 or ABHE, 5850 T G Lee Blvd, Suite 130, Orlando FL 32822.

For items pertaining to the accreditation of the college or seminary, students have a right to register their complaint directly with ABHE, 5850 T G Lee Blvd, Suite 130, Orlando FL 32822.

Graduation

Students must indicate their intention to graduate by completing an application for graduation at the beginning of their final semester. The student will be expected to attend his/her graduation exercises unless permission to graduate in absentia is granted by the faculty.

The prescribed course of study as outlined in the curriculum must be completed satisfactorily before the student will be eligible for graduation. Students pursuing a degree or diploma at CSBS&C must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 for graduation. Graduating students must have met their financial obligations with the school.

Students who have met the above requirements are considered by the faculty for recommendation to the Board of Trustees for graduation.

Statute of Limitations

All course credits applied towards degree requirements should be earned within 10 years of the awarding of the degree.

The degree requirements listed in the Academic Catalogue at date of entry must be met for graduation. Should a student not complete these requirements within four years from date of enrollment, he/she will be subject to degree requirements under the current catalogue.

Transcripts

Transcripts of a student's record may be obtained from the Registrar's Office upon request by the student. The transcript fee should accompany the request. All accounts must be settled in full before a transcript will be issued.

► Library Services

The aim of the Keith C. Wills Library is to support and facilitate both students and faculty in their educational life. The library provides spacious study areas and open access to its materials. The library currently has over 40,000 printed volumes as well as 5,000 ebook resources with additions continually added. Current periodical subscriptions include over 200 titles with additional retrospective and complementary journals in the library's holdings. The library houses audio and video material used for educational and entertainment purposes as well as a curriculum lab of material produced by the Southern Baptist Convention and its agencies for student's consultation and use. A microfilm/fiche reader-printer, photocopier and computers are provided for library patrons. The library also provides Internet access to online database programs for its patrons.

The library is now using the open-source library automated system, Koha. The CSBS&C, along with Alberta Bible College and Rocky Mountain College in Calgary, have joined together in a consortium called SALT (Southern Alberta Libraries of Theology). This consortium allows circulation privileges between the 3 schools for our students, faculty, and staff. The library participates in the Online Computer Library Center (OCLC) for cataloguing and interlibrary loans.

Future plans include continual purchases of online retrospective academic journals and indices/databases and further expansion of both printed monograph collections as well as the electronic book collections.

► Student Activities

Student Services

CSBS&C has a Student Service department with the purpose of building community among the students, faculty and staff. To accomplish this purpose, Student Services works closely with Student Council to address student needs and plan events throughout the year for the seminary family. Women in Ministry meetings are held monthly to encourage the women connected to the seminary and help establish lasting friendships. Friday Fellowship is a weekly event meant to give students and their families the opportunity to dialogue with professors, staff and other students over a tasty plate of food. Each activity is intended to bring unity and promote student fulfillment while at seminary.

Student Council

The Student Council provides leadership for a number of activities during the year, working closely the student services director to provide opportunities for all students to engage in community events.

Missions Conference

In the Spring semester of odd-numbered years the school hosts a conference on missions.

Academic Lectureship

In the Spring semester of even numbered years, CSBS&C hosts a Christian scholar for the Dr. Gary Owen M.D. Memorial Lectureship.

Counselling Services

Confidential counselling is available for students to address areas of concern including personal and emotional difficulties. Students desiring to use this service can make an appointment with the counselling department.

► Spiritual Formation

Chapel

Chapel services are conducted during specified days of the week. The purposes of chapel are worship, Bible study, inspiration, and instruction in Christian ministry. Students are encouraged to attend all chapel services.

Church Involvement

One of the expectations for every student fully enrolled at CSBS&C is that each one will be actively involved in church life and ministry during their studies. This not only provides a context within which to appreciate classroom learning but also enriches students with experience that prepared them for future ministry. Completion of an annual church involvement report whereby students' pastor or church leader can verify they indeed are taking advantage of this "classroom-outside-the classroom" is required.

Students are encouraged to accept preaching and other ministry opportunities in churches when invited.

Spiritual Renewal Week

At the beginning of the academic year, a week of extended chapel time is set aside to focus on spiritual renewal. This week sets the tone for the school year by allowing students the opportunity to make sure their heart, mind and life are in harmony with God's will. Various topics related to the Christian faith are covered. Students are expected to take part in Spiritual Renewal Week.

Journey Groups

Faculty members facilitate a Journey Group of students each year. These groups meet weekly during each semester. This is a time for faculty and students to build relationships and strengthen their walk with God. Students will be given the opportunity to join a Journey Group at the beginning of each semester. Students are strongly encouraged to participate in Journey Groups.

► Church Planting

Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary & College in partnership with the North American Mission Board (NAMB) of the Southern Baptist Convention (USA) offer training in church planting through the SEND North America project. Our Professor of Church Planting, Dr. Dan Morgan, is looking for individuals who sense a call from God to start something new and want to learn the art and skill of planting a new church. Training includes both classroom learning and field-based internships. Completion of training qualifies the graduate for deployment as a NAMB Church Planter.

For more information regarding
Church Planting, please contact:

Dr. Dan Morgan

Professor of Church Planting
Dan.Morgan@csbs.ca

B.S., University of Washington; M.Div., Ph.D. Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Dr. Morgan has been a church planter strategist in Oregon from 1993 to 1998. He was a mission pastor at Saddleback Church training church planters from 1998-2001. From 2001 to 2009 he was the Nehemiah Director and Associate professor of Missions at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has published articles and book chapters related to church planting throughout his career. He joined CSBS&C in 2010.

Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary

The seminary offers three Master's level degree programs: The Master of Divinity (MDiv) degree, the Master of Christian Ministry (MCMMin) with three tracks, and the Master of Biblical Studies (MBS) degree. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university is prerequisite to a graduate degree from the seminary. Degrees from unaccredited colleges or universities will be considered on an individual basis. Applicants should have the equivalent of a grade point average of 2.0 or better on a 4.0 scale. The goal of the graduate degree programs is to prepare God-called men and women for Christian ministries such as pastors, church planters, missionaries, and other types of Christian ministers. Some graduates go on to do further post-graduate studies. Study on the Cochrane campus or through the internet takes place in a community of learning that values academic excellence, practical training, and commitment to Christ as Lord.

Pre-Seminary Study

The Association of Theological Schools recommends the following guidelines to its member schools to offer as counsel for students who are preparing for graduate-level seminary studies:

1. Schools should require evidence that a student has developed to a satisfactory degree the ability to think independently, to communicate effectively, and to do research.
2. Students should possess a basic general knowledge of past and present culture through studies in the humanities and in the natural and social sciences.
3. The biblical languages are useful tools which may be acquired in the pre-seminary period. Other language study may also be helpful, including modern languages such as German, French, and Spanish.

► Distance Education

SeminaryLink.com

SeminaryLink.com is the name of Canadian Southern Baptist Seminary's fully accredited Comprehensive Distance Education Program. Students who are unable to relocate to the Cochrane campus can study from anywhere in the world where they can find access to the internet. The program is flexible enough so that a student can start at practically anytime.

All of the masters degrees offered at CSBS can be earned through SeminaryLink. Students can complete the Master of Divinity (MDiv) degree by taking the maximum allowable number of its courses (two-thirds) through online delivery in the fall and spring semesters. In each course, an on-line learning community is formed through threaded discussions, chat-rooms, collaborative online student group projects, weekly faculty monitoring of responses, the provision of online chapels with streamed audio, and student advising that helps the students feel part of the CSBS family.

The balance of the MDiv requirements is achieved during one-week intensive courses offered on campus in January and May/June. These courses provide not only one-third of this degree but also make possible on-campus opportunities to meet with classmates face to face. The 92 credit-hour Master of Divinity degree can be completed by distance in four years.

The 60 credit-hour Master of Christian Ministry (MCMin) can also be earned by completing two-thirds of the courses online and one-third through on-campus intensive courses.

The 48 credit-hour Master of Biblical Studies (MBS) degree can be earned fully online. The delivery of the online courses is the same as for the MDiv and the MCMin. Students learn in a virtual community and have direct access to faculty and staff at the Cochrane campus. Likewise, this degree can be completed in four years of study from anywhere in the world.

Online class and course packages are made up of weekly text-based curriculum materials enhanced by PowerPoint, audio and video streaming, and the use of electronic links such as the online library catalogue, periodical base, a Web Electronic Resources page listing biblical dictionaries, commentaries, free Bible software from Washburn Institute and other comparable biblical and theological educational resources.

CSBS is currently petitioning the Association of Theological Schools to be able to offer a new 48 credit-hour degree fully online. The Master of Christian Studies degree will include many of the same high-caliber courses in the other masters degree but can be completed in a shorter amount of time.

See the website for more details on each degree (www.SeminaryLink.com) or contact the Registrar for upcoming courses (registrar@csbs.ca).

► Doctor of Ministry (DMin)

Description

The DMin degree is a three-year program designed for the busy minister who is involved in a full and substantial ministry. It differs from a PhD by its level of academic intensity (a PhD demands significantly more time) but also by its research methodology. Whereas a PhD is intended to expand or synthesize the corporate knowledge in a particular area of study primarily through academic investigation, a DMin bases its conclusions on practical ministry-derived data. Since candidates can personalize the focus of their learning, the program is appropriate for individuals involved in all kinds of vocational ministry, including the local church, denominational service, institutional ministry, the mission field, and chaplaincy. The program integrates rigorous academic study with current ministry through seminars, personal supervision, and the development, implementation, and documentation of a ministry project.

Partnership

The DMin program at CSBS&C is a Canadian track designed specifically for the Canadian culture and ministry context and will be offered on the Cochrane campus by Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary (GGBTS) of Mill Valley, California. As such, graduates of the program receive a GGBTS degree which is granted under the supervision and approval of CSBS&C. Students will have the benefit of counsel and evaluation from supervisors and professors who are familiar with the Canadian context in which the projects are being implemented.

Requirements

1. Master of Divinity (MDiv) degree or its equivalent.
2. Five years of ministry experience.

Canadian Baptist College

Canadian Baptist College (CBC) offers two fully accredited degree programs.

1. The 4-year Bachelor of Christian Studies helps high school graduates to grow and mature in their faith and to clarify God's calling for their lives. This degree also lays a strong foundation for students who intend to pursue seminary studies after college.
2. The 3-year Bachelor of Christian Ministry degree prepares mature students (22 years and older) to serve the Lord in a variety of Christian ministries.

Students interested in shorter programs of study have the following options:

3. The 2-year Diploma of Christian Ministry or Diploma of Christian Studies.
4. The 1-year Certificate of Christian Studies.

Because of the integrated design of our academic programs, students can easily transfer between them without losing hard-earned credits.

All of the college programs have three basic components. The first of these, biblical and theological studies, provides a solid grounding for students' faith. The second, general studies, exposes students to the broad range of knowledge necessary for well-rounded leaders in today's world. Integrating biblical and general studies equips students in developing a biblical world view and establishes a frame of reference for living out their Christian faith. Depending on the program, the third component consists either of applied ministry skills (BCMin) or a range of Christian studies (BCS). The common thread running through all three of these components is spiritual formation, the development of Christ-like character. As followers of Christ, it is essential that we bring every aspect of life under His lordship.

Canadian Baptist College is committed to providing high quality teaching in a warm, supportive environment both for students well on their way to Christian service and for those just beginning to discover who they are in Christ. Gaining knowledge, developing skills, and being shaped in Christian character are all part of the experience at CBC!

The Bachelor of Christian Studies degree is designed for students who want to grow in their Christian faith and who desire to gain a general introduction to biblical, theological, or ministry studies. This degree program is recommended for students who have yet to choose a specific vocation and who would gain from a variety of Christian disciplines. It is also recommended for those who are interested in preparing for seminary studies.
