Life in Cochrane

Cochrane is a lovely town less than half an hour from Calgary, the biggest city in Alberta. At your orientation, we will give you an information packet from the Town of Cochrane, but if you would like to familiarize yourself with the community before you arrive, you may want to look at their website:

<http://www.cochrane.ca>

You may want to ask about each Bank's requirements and fees when you go to set up an account. Many banks have specially discounted plans for students. You may need to ask about this. You will probably need 3 pieces of identification, including your passport and Social Insurance Number if you have one. If you bring a check to deposit funds from other countries, the bank may put a hold on those monies for up to 30 days, so be sure to ask about this. If you bring cash, make sure you have the receipt from the bank where it was withdrawn. Be aware that you may have to pay a fee if you use a bank machine (ATM) that is not from your bank.

 - For example, if you establish permanent residency in Alberta on July 12, your coverage is effective October 1.

Travelling Outside Canada

Before leaving Canada on a trip, you should check with Citizenship and Immigration Canada for the procedures and what documents you will need for re-entry. When dealing with immigration it is important to keep a record of the name of whom you spoke to, the date of the conversation, agent number and a brief description of your conversation.

If you are traveling with your children but your spouse is not accompanying you, you need to get consent from your spouse to take the children out of the country. The document should include the names of the children as well as your departure and return date and location of your visit. Your spouse should sign this document and it is recommended that you have this document notarized. A notary may charge you from $20 to $40 for this service.

Winter Weather

If you are not from a country with cold winters (October to April), you will want to be sure to purchase a warm (well-lined) winter coat, hat, mittens, scarf, lined boots and underwear known as "long Johns."

Winter Tips:

1. Don't take chances with cold weather. Be sure to find out the weather forecast by either listening to a local radio station, reading it in the newspaper or checking online at weather.com, and then dress accordingly.
2. Warm, winter clothing is a necessity. It can be quite cold some days and you will need warm clothing to stay healthy. Try wearing several layers of clothing. It is much easier to remove a layer or two if you become too warm than to get warmer by adding another layer.
3. Ask others that are familiar with the climate for advice. Speak with other international students, classmates or the Student Services Department for assistance.
4. Be sure to eat breakfast. Your body will stay warmer if you have some fuel to burn.
5. Use moisturizing creams and conditioners. Your skin and scalp may become dry and flaky due to the cold and the dry heat indoors. In addition, drinking 8 glasses of water daily will help to prevent dehydration.
6. Protect your eyes and skin from the sunlight reflected from the snow. You can protect your eyes by wearing sunglasses and your skin by putting on sunscreen.
7. The wind chill factor is something to consider. The temperature can feel colder because of high blowing winds.
8. Be aware of frostbite. Exposing your ears, fingers, toes or cheeks to extreme freezing temperatures, even for a short period of time, may cause them to be severely damaged. Seek medical help immediately if any part of your body should lack feeling or become white or slightly blue.
9. Seek help if you become stranded in the cold. If for some reason you are stranded in the cold with no transportation, then go to the nearest shelter to warm up. If you happen to be in a rural area, then you may need to knock on the closest door and ask if you can come in for a short period of time. Don't risk being out in freezing temperatures for prolonged periods of time since it can be life threatening.
10. When driving always keep a warm blanket, a candle and matches in the car. If your car ever has mechanical problems these items will be invaluable for keeping warm.
